The Matthews-Northrup Works, Buffalo and New York.

FROM THE STEEL ARCH BRIDGE.

The steamer "Maid of the Mist" starting on her unique trip toward the base of the Horseshoe Fall.

C. P. Goerz. Doppel Anastigmat.

"A MASS OF WATER POURING FROM THE CLOUDS."
The American Fall from the foot of the Inclined Railway.

FROM "HENNEPIN'S VIEW" IN PROSPECT PARK.
All in all, the most impressive and comprehensive view of Niagara.

C. P. Goerz, Doppel Anastigmat.

AVERY'S ROCK.

American Rapids, between Goat Island Bridge and American Fall. Here he clung (1853) for 24 hours, but was finally swept over the Fall.

C. P. Goerz, Doppel-Anastigmat.

THE GOAT ISLAND HILL, WITH BRIDGE FROM GREEN ISLAND.

Over this bridge passes every visitor to Goat Island. "The most interesting spot in all America."

THE ROCK OF AGES AT THE BASE OF THE LUNA ISLAND FALL.
As seen from the bank below Goat Island. Reached by the Biddle Stairs.

TERRAPIN ROCKS AND HORSESHOE FALL FROM GOAT ISLAND.
These rocks are the scenic and geographic center of Niagara.

C. P. Goerz, Doppel Anastigmat.

THE BEAUTIFUL THREE SISTER ISLANDS.
As seen from the path on Goat Island after passing the Horseshoe Fall.

AN ICE BRIDGE AT NIAGARA.
Showing the shanties erected close to the International Boundary Line.

THE WONDROUS ICE SCENERY OF NIAGARA.
The American Fall and ice mountains in front of it. January, 1896.

C. P. Goerz, Doppel Anastigmat.

GOAT ISLAND CLIFF.

Biddle Stairs and American Fall. As viewed from the high bank above Victoria Park, Canada.

IN WINTER'S FIRM EMBRACE.

The ice mountain at the foot of the American Fall, reached by the Inclined Railway in Prospect Park

C. P. Goerz, Doppel Anastigmat.

WHEN NIAGARA'S TIDE IS LOW.

Rocky formation at upper end of Second Sister Island, New York State Reservation, with first cascade of the Rapids above.

C. P. Goerz, Doppel Anastigmat.

THE BRINK OF THE AMERICAN FALL FROM LUNA ISLAND.

The immediate foreground is the scene of the most pathetic fatality that ever occurred at Niagara.

C. P. Goerz, Doppel Anastigmat.

VIEW FROM PROSPECT PARK ACROSS THE GORGE.

The Clifton House, an old landmark destroyed by fire, 1897, and the Inclined Railway, Canada side.

C. P. Goerz, Doppel Anastigmat.

THE TERRAPIN ROCKS.

Where stood old Terrapin Tower. As seen from the top of the bank, overlooking the Horseshoe Fall, on Goat Island.

"WHEN NIAGARA RAN DRY."
The Cave of the Winds Fall, completely blocked by ice, January, 1896.

C. P. Goerz, Doppel Anastigmat.

THE FULL SWEEP OF THE HORSESHOE FALL

Can be viewed from the edge of the Goat Island cliff, near the top of the Biddle Stairs.

C. P. Goerz. Doppel Anastigmat.

THE AMERICAN FALL.

As seen from the Canada side, with the virgin forest on Goat Island as a background.

C. P. Goerz, Doppel Anastigmat.

THE HORSESHOE FALL.

Over which seven-eighths of the waters of the four great upper lakes find their way to the ocean.

C. P. Goerz, Doppel Anastigmat.

THE SPRING ON GOAT ISLAND.

"Where, 'neath the overhanging trees, the thirsty quaff their fill.'

C. P. Goers, Doppel Anastigmat.

"A QUARTER OF A MILE OF RUSHING, TUMBLING, FOAMING RAPIDS."
View upstream from the Bridge to Goat Island.

C. P. Goerz, Doppel Anastigmat.

CAVE OF THE WINDS, LUNA ISLAND, AND THE AMERICAN FALL.
From the steamer "Maid of the Mist."

C. P. Goers, Doppel Anastigmat.

EASTERN OR AMERICAN PORTION OF HORSESHOE FALL.

As seen from Victoria Park, Canada. Bathed in the light of the afternoon sun.

C. P. Goerz, Doppel Anastigmat.

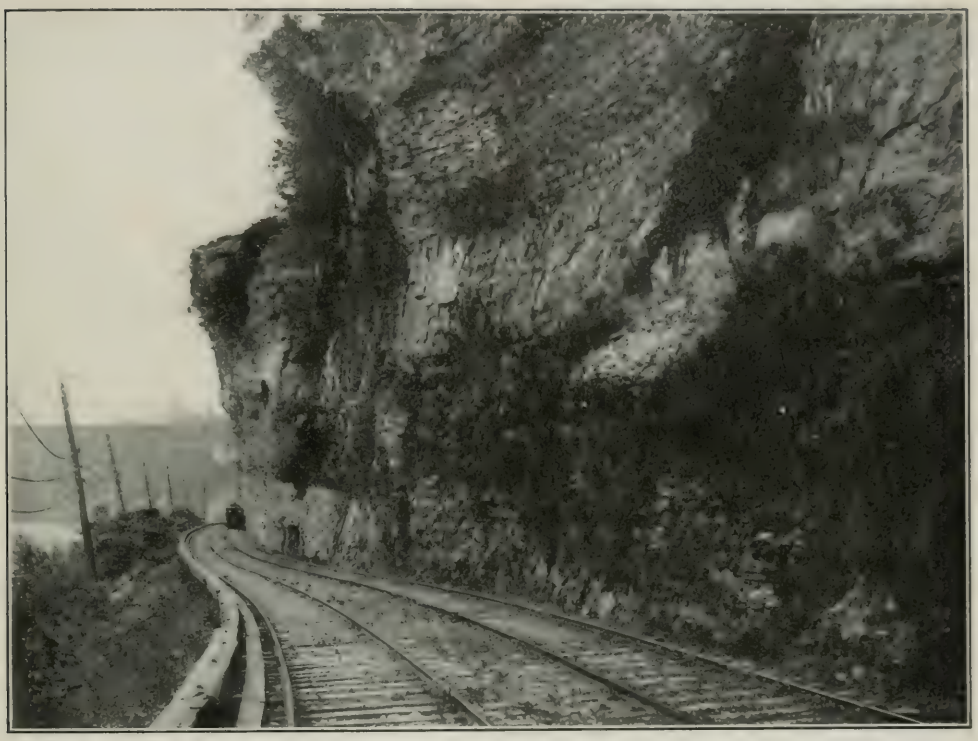
THE WHIRLPOOL RAPIDS.

Photograph taken from a Niagara Gorge R. R. car on its way through the Great Gorge.

C. P. Goerz, Doppel Anastigmat.

THE HEART OF NIAGARA.

The point of the cataract's greatest erosion. As seen from the Canada side.



C. P. Goerz, Doppel Anastigmat.

ON THE GREAT GORGE RAILROAD.

The "Crows' Nest." Here the beetling cliff projects its lofty summit far out beyond the gently-curving rails.

C. P. Goerz, Doppel Anastigmat.

CHIPPAWA CREEK, CANADA SIDE.

Just above it was fought the Battle of Chippawa, July 5, 1814.

C. P. Goerz, Doppel Anastigmat.

ICE SCENERY ON THE RESERVATION

When every branch and twig is covered with a milk-white coating of frozen spray

C. P. Goerz, Doppel Anastigmat.

THE AMERICAN RAPIDS, BELOW OLD GOAT ISLAND BRIDGE.
The smaller and, perhaps, therefore, the more comprehensible rapids at Niagara.

C. P. Goerz, Doppel-Anastigmat.

THE NEW GOAT ISLAND BRIDGE, BUILT IN 1901.

TERRAPIN TOWER IN ICY GARB.
This tower, built in 1833, was needlessly torn down in 1873.

TERRAPIN TOWER AND BRIDGE.
As seen from the point now known as Porter's Bluff, on Goat Island

C. P. Goerz, Doppel-Anastigmat.

THE APEX OF THE HORSESHOE FALL.
The point of the Cataract's greatest erosion.

C. P. Goerz, Doppel-Anastigmat.

THE MADDING RAPIDS ABOVE THE FALLS.
From an ideal point of view on the third Sister Island.

C. P. Goerz, Doppel Anastigmat.

THE OLD STONE CHIMNEY.

The oldest structure on the Frontier. Part of Fort Little Niagara, built by the French, 1750.

C. P. Goerz. Doppel Anastigmat.

THE GREAT WHIRLPOOL.
Where the bodies of many of Niagara's victims are recovered.

C. P. Goerz, Doppel Anastigmat.

VIEW FROM QUEENSTON HEIGHTS.

The river, after its turbulent journey of seven miles from the Falls, flows placidly to Lake Ontario.

FORT MISSISSAGA.

At the mouth of the Niagara River, Canadian side. Built 1814.

C. P. Goerz, Doppel Anastigmat.

FORT NIAGARA. AT THE MOUTH OF THE RIVER.
The oldest Fort of the seaboard in America, and the best preserved.

C. P. Goerz, Doppel-Anastigmat.

THE CASTLE IN FORT NIAGARA.
Its foundations are the oldest masonry west of Albany.

C. P. Goerz, Doppel-Anastigmat.

THE "MAID OF THE MIST."

This little steamship makes frequent trips from her landing up to within a few hundred feet of the Horseshoe Fall. This trip should not be omitted

C. P. Goerz, Doppel Anastigmat.

THE OLD MAGAZINE IN FORT NIAGARA.

Where William Morgan, of anti-Masonic fame, was confined and last seen alive.

C. P. Goerz, Doppel-Anastigmat.

THE GIANT ROCK.
A monument left, many centuries ago, by Niagara in its recession.

C. P. Goerz, Doppel Anastigmat.

THE INLET AND OUTLET OF THE GREAT WHIRLPOOL.
From the top of the cliff, above the outlet, Canada side.

C. P. Goerz, Doppel Anastigmat.

THE WHIRLPOOL RAPIDS, ABOVE THE POOL,
where the stormy waves dash high.
